

Tomato plants are highly susceptible to Early Blight caused by Alternaria solani.

Furthermore, prolonged leaf wetness drastically increases the incidence of Early Blight.

In open-field trials, Neem Oil Extract showed limited effectiveness and was ineffective under high humidity.

Tomato cultivation is also susceptible to Tomato Yellow Leaf Curl Virus in solanaceous plots.